

Pitcher Perfect Mechanics

INFORMATION ON FUTURE EVENTS

Looking for a high school or little league pitching clinic for the upcoming baseball season? Former Texas A&M Aggies and Houston Astros pitcher Robert Ramsey is holding pitching lectures for players, parents and coaches in the Houston baseball community on Wednesday, June 11th from 7:00-8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Baseball USA complex located on Sam Houston Parkway N. The lectures are for all ages, coaches and players alike, and will each include 80 minutes of PowerPoint presentation slides and instructor demonstration from one of the area's leading pitching instructors.

The price to attend is $100 per player, parent or coach for one pitching lecture, in the form of cash or check only. Parents that wish to accompany their child will be charged $15 per lecture. Seating is limited to the first 60 and is expected to go quickly. We will not be taking reservations.

- The essentials needed to throw harder and more consistent strikes
- The steps to developing a proper wind-up and stretch delivery
- The correct way to grip a four seam and two seam fastball and the strategy behind both
